

Equipping to Share

LUTHERAN HOUR MINISTRIES

People Of Christ With The Message Of Hope

A Workshop for Everyday Witnessing

Maybe it's at work, your local coffee shop, or in your own family. Every day we encounter "mission moments" - those moments God assigns us to share the Gospel with a lost person. He instructs us to be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks us the reason for the hope we have (1 Peter 3:15). If you feel tongue tied or fearful when it comes to sharing your hope, you are not alone.

That's why Lutheran Hour Ministries developed a training program to strengthen and encourage believers for today's witnessing challenges. Learn to share your faith effectively and with ease when mission moments emerge. The mission is God's, the message is God's, and the power is God's. Equipping to Share will teach you to acknowledge His power and to utilize the tools He's provided to confidently share your faith with both gentleness and respect.

Equipping to Share (EtS) workshops concentrate on the believer's privilege to speak the Gospel, express the impact of Christ in life, seek understanding of the lost, and connect new people into the church family. Biblical models are discussed in the context of our everyday relationships and encounters. You'll receive practical insights for sharing your faith daily. Bible-based and interactive, the workshop combines training by presenter with large and small group discussion.

Equipping to Share (EtS) workshops concentrate on:

- Our motivation – our commission – as Christ's witnesses
- Reaching the community & connecting others to the church
- Understanding the spiritually lost
- Getting prepared to share the hope that you have
- Sharing the Gospel message in understandable terms

Are you prepared for "mission moments" as an individual? As a congregation? As a circuit, zone, or district? Consider hosting or attending an Equipping to Share workshop!
