

Khok Kloi, Thailand Children's Day Camp Project March or October 2010

Dates: March or October 2010

Cost: $825 – This includes food, lodging, in-country transportation (roundtrip flight to Phuket), translators and travel/health insurance. This does not include int'l flights.

Project Costs: $3,000. This includes transportation for children and food and drinks for children attending the camp. The volunteer must also bring all components of the camp materials (similar to a VBS) with them from the U.S.

Children's Day Camp

Since the tsunami of December 2004, Lutheran Hour Ministries Thailand (LHMT) and Khok Kloi Lutheran Church (KKLC) have been doing a number of outreach activities and relief and development projects in the Khok Kloi area. Through these efforts God has blessed us with many close relationships with tsunami victims and others in that community. Some have even come to faith in Jesus, been baptized and joined the church.

Recently the parents have requested LHMT to return to Khok Kloi to conduct special activities for children at least two times each year during the school breaks. In their community there are not many positive activities for children to do during their free time. The parents are concerned that the children often spend too much time watching television, playing computer games, and just sitting around home doing nothing. To respond to the request from these parents, LHMT is planning a 5-day Children's Day Camp for 50-70 children aged 10-12 years.

From 9am until 3pm each day, the children will enjoy singing, playing games, and doing art projects based on Bible stories. A team of volunteers from the United States will work together with the LHMT staff and KKLC pastor and members to plan the camp, prepare materials, and lead the songs, games, and activities.

You will learn about Thailand through authentic cross-cultural experiences and having fellowship with local Lutherans, and will have the opportunity to share the love of Jesus. If you are interested in touching lives in Thailand please call Polly Gregali at 314-317-4164 or email polly.gregali@lhm.org.

